FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: Will I need to come to campus?

A: No, you do not need to come to campus for classes. You will have access to online resources through the College library.

Q: Are the online classes simply watching a series of video lectures?

A: No, the online classes are not driven by video lectures. You will be assigned material to read and understand. You will then engage in learning activities such as worksheets, forums, journals and wikis, and write a substantial research paper.

Q: What is the study workload for an online course?

A: You can expect to spend 7-8 hours each week on online learning activities. You should plan your week in advance and schedule sufficient time for your studies.

Q: How many courses am I permitted to study each term? How long will I take to complete the program?

A: You may take two courses each term and aim to finish the program in four years. The maximum duration for the program is six years.

Q: What are the plans after MACS (online)?

A: You can progress to the Master of Divinity program. This is an onsite program.
